

A NEW ENTERPRISE

Brewery and Ice Factory for Fresno.

A CAPITALIST WANTS TO INVEST

Hundred Thousand Club Meeting.
Plan to Bring Eastern Excursionists Here.

The most important matter before the Hundred Thousand club at its meeting last night was the report of N. P. Justy to the effect that a capitalist from Humboldt county is in the city investigating the advantages offered for establishing a brewery and ice factory here. If proper inducements are made the capitalist, who is P. McAllister of Eureka, will erect a brewery and ice manufacturing plant which will cost about $75,000. The inducements, however, the support of the Hundred Thousand club and the Chamber of Commerce, and an assurance of a certain amount of business.

Mr. Justy had the visitor about the city and surrounding country, and the capitalist was very favorably impressed with what he saw. He had come to the conclusion that Fresno was a very good place in which to invest money, and it given proper encouragement would do so.

The club was of course much pleased with Mr. Justy's statement, and it was the unanimous opinion of all that every effort should be made to induce the capitalist to establish his business in this city. The members of the club were confident that the investment would be a profitable one. Fresno summers create an excellent market for beer and ice, and power, which could be had from the electric plant, is as cheap here as in any place in the state. The club appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs. Taylor, Albion, William Gies and Mr. Justy, to look up the matter. Other business transacted by the club was the appointment by Chairman Lisby of the following committee to represent the organization at the meeting with Congressman C. H. Castle tomorrow afternoon to consider the proposed extension of the Fresno and Los Angeles road on the Fresno and Los Angeles road to this city next April. During that month there will be excursions from the East to this state, and the Hundred Thousand club desires to have these excursions visit the main center also. If arrangements can be made to run excursions to Fresno from the two cities mentioned, at which the visitors will spend most of their time while in the state, it is the hope of the club to plan a big rabbit drive or some other attraction that will induce the easterners to come here. The excursionists will be people of means, the class to whom the greatest request of the club should be shown. If their interest is aroused in this county it will result beneficially to Fresno. Mr. Bernhard's duty is therefore an important one, for if he succeeds in making the excursionists visit the county, the club will have hit upon one of the best schemes to advertise the county that it has ever undertaken.

John C. Moore and C. H. Markham were elected members of the club, after which the meeting adjourned.

"JOKES AND JOKING."

An Excellent Lecture by Rev. J. W. Webb Last Evening.

Notwithstanding the rain there was a large attendance at the entertainment given by the Young People's Society of the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church last night in the old high school building. The society had secured the services of a former pastor, Rev. J. W. Webb, for his popular lecture on "Jokes and Joking." This was followed by very enjoyable social with refreshments. The old school assembly room had been very prettily decorated with palms and evergreens; the supper table with California violets.

Rev. W. H. Martin introduced the speaker of the evening, who for nearly an hour and a half held the attention of young and old, eliciting frequent hearty laughter and applause.

His subject was "Jokes and Joking," and his starting point, his answers were "Yes" and "No," the former, I don't in a right spirit, at the right time and on allowable subjects; the negative, I will not joke that is the question, it is the question of the time, the place, the person, the subject, and on objectionable subjects. Mr. Webb philosophized on his theme, with convincing logic, and quoting poets, the ancient, legends and nature in his favor. He deprecated joking on people's deficiencies, defects or misfortune; on that great individual vice and disease and national disgrace, drunkenness; on things sacred, and on the vulgar and indecent. He told some capital jokes and anecdotes on all classes of society, and, without "sarcasmizing," hit some evils well deserved blows and threw in, as the saying is, some excellent advice to the young.

The lecture was certainly instructive and entertaining and not without considerable literary merit. The church building fund is the richer for the occasion.

Grand Outlook for California.

From the Chicago Telegram.

The ten days of copious rain in California insure a great wheat crop and good times in the state. There are encouraging reports all along the line of the Pacific states, and the chances are that the people of that section of the Union are nearly ready to enter upon the period of great prosperity. They stand at the very gateway of the wealth that will pour across the continent from the far East. This, added to their agriculture and mining wealth, makes a grand outlook for the future.

Taken Under Adversity.

The suit of A. G. Laverne against

Fulton G. Perry, involving a disputed accounting of about $775, was tried before Judge Riley yesterday, and taken under advisement by the court. Laverne had been sued by Perry on a claim for a room at the Grand Central hotel. The plaintiff was represented by Mark Walter and W. D. Tupper, and the defendant by F. H. Short.

The Lottery Cases.

Wong Chow's attorney, Mark Walter, yesterday filed a demurrer to the complaint charging him with dealing in lottery tickets. A demurrer was also filed by Attorney Caldwell in the case of Ah Lee, charged with the same offense. The time for hearing Ah Lee's plea was continued by Justice St. John yesterday in February 25th. Ah Sam was arrested yesterday for selling lottery tickets, and gave $250 bail for his appearance.

To Foreclose Contract.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company

filed two voluminous suits in the superior court yesterday. The purpose of them is to foreclose contract and the defendants are James D. Rymer et al, and William H. H. Hart et al.

LATE AS USUAL.

The "Expositor" Prints News That's Several Days Old.

The "Expositor" last evening printed a New York dispatch in which it is stated that some eastern capitalists intended investing $500,000 in a grain seedling establishment somewhere in California, presumably in Fresno. This dispatch appeared three days ago in the "Expositor," which clipped it from the "Review," to which paper the story was duly credited.

The "Expositor" obtained its story from the "Chronicle," which, in order to give the item the appearance of being original with itself, added to the "Review" dispatch the statement that the capitalists had formed a trust to control the grain output of California. This statement is generally regarded as a fake story, though there are many who would not be sorry if it turned out to be true.

To carry out the idea that the "trust" will handle the grain of California, Alfred Nicholls, who is alleged to be its president, is quoted as saying: "The demand for grain has grown to such proportions that it is impossible to respond to the requirements of the trade except by an investment of a large sum of money at a point where the fruit can be had at the least expense."

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Given in Honor of Clarence Gaines

in Temperance Colony.

A delightful party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, in Temperance colony last Friday evening, the occasion being the celebration of the birthday anniversary of their son Clarence. Part of the evening was spent in games and music. At a late hour an elegant supper was served. After supper toasts were given, and every one was prepared with some historical event or anecdote about Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday fell on the same day. It was late before the party dispersed.

Those who were present: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hoard, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mrs. Bennett, Misses Lelia Walker of Fresno, Mabel Galtus, Verna Rauscher, Lela Landrum, Elizabeth Eaton, Irene Gaines, Ollie and Alice Smith, Messrs. Frank Deaton, Ollie, William and Bruce Deaton, LeRoy Rauscher, George Backer, Clarence Gaines, Andrew Hansen of Fresno, Howard and Victor Gaines.

BRIGHT MADRID NEWS

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE IN SESSION.

Tennessee Governor Burns His Clothes—Another Rabbit Drive.

Death of Edward Walters.

Raleigh E. Rhodes, the Fresno attorney, was here Tuesday on legal business. Judge Marks of Merced is in town.

Edward Walters, a well-known resident of Borden, died Monday night. Mr. Walters had been a resident of Borden for the last eighteen years, and was a brother of the late Henry Walters of San Francisco and Fresno. He was in his 63rd year, and leaves a widow and five children to mourn his death. The interment took place yesterday at Arbor View cemetery and was attended by a large number of friends.

There is to be another rabbit drive here next Sunday, the start to be made from a point about seven miles north-west of Fresno, near the junction of the Fresno and Merced rivers.

It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance, as the "long-eared pest" has enormously increased of late.

The fair weather flag of the local weather bureau has been taken indoors and the rain signal hoisted. The weather sharp in this town is out to his job.

J. S. Hermann, the Fresno merchant, was a visitor yesterday.

The "Expositor" Institute in its session today and Professor Hilgard, among others, will address the meeting. It is much to be feared, however, that the stormy weather now prevailing will prevent a good attendance as could be wished.

Mrs. W. O. Vickery of Oakland is here on a visit to the family of Fred Prosser.

O. R. Jeffrey of Sacramento is visiting here.

Julian, who is registered at the Yosemite, Mr. Julian has come here to take the position of editor on the staff of the Madera Mercury. We extend to him a cordial welcome and hope that his sojourn in Madera may be mutually agreeable.

An individual with the high-toned name of Charles Cornelius Tennessee Goforth visited our city Tuesday last.

Mr. Goforth, after taking a few days of Krupp gun caliber, indulged in a series of ear-splitting shouts for McKinley.

Deputy Sheriff Wells, who is of Bryanite proclivities, immediately lodged him in jail, and in about an hour thereafter he was taken to the county jail.

He found him in the costume of our first parents in Eden, Mr. Goforth having retained every vestige of his clothing in the jail store. This is a favorite scheme of his to obtain a new suit.

He got a suit, but not exactly a new one, and Judge McDonald decided yesterday that after Mr. Goforth had worked ten days, to pay for the same, he should go home.

Furniture King Parker Lyon was a visitor to Madera a few days ago, and breaking his wheel about three miles from here he had to resort to the unskillful but lion-like method of walking the remaining distance.

The newly organized Bar Association of Madera county, of which B. W. Child is president and Francis A. Fee secretary, has been engaged the last few days in revising the rules of court. The new rules have been adopted and will be presented to the court Saturday, after which they will be printed. Foreign attorneys can have a copy thereof on payment of $1 to County Clerk Eubanks.

Madera, February 18, 1897.

The Farmers' Institute.

The meeting of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the farmers' institute to be held in this city

March 4th and 5th will meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and street on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, as heretofore announced.

The change was made in order to give the institute a more important meeting at the city hall, which most of the members of the committee wish to attend.

Material for Postmaster.

The number of Republicans who would not object to writing P. M. (postmaster) after their name is increasing steadily if slowly. The candidates now number eight and their names are as follows: J. W. Shanklin, R. N. Barstow, W. M. Condit, Thomas Yost, J. B. McDonald, F. P. Winkelman, A. W.

Johnson and George A. Smith.

NO MORE RATE CUTTING

The Insurance War Ended in Fresno County.

A UNIFORM SCHEDULE ADOPTED

The Agents Effectively Organized.
The "Flat" Rates Now in Force.

The war among the fire insurance companies, which has been waged with such bitterness for the past two years, is now at an end as far as Fresno county is concerned. This is the result of the association of the agents in the county, whose organization was reported in the "Review" a few weeks ago. The agents were successful in accomplishing their purpose, and a uniform schedule of rates is now in force in the county.

Besides this the agents have secured from their companies the exclusive right to the business of this county. Formerly about one-third of the insurance in the county, especially on large buildings whose owners reside in San Francisco or have considerable business there, was placed with brokers in that city. This was of course a serious loss to the local agents, and one of the first steps they took upon the completion of their organization was to exert their influence and induce the companies to issue an order that Fresno county insurance could not be handled by others than resident agents. Many large commissions which formerly went to San Francisco will now be received by the Fresno agents and the money remain here.

The agents have reinstated the old "flat" schedule that was in vogue several years ago, before the companies began to exert their influence in the county. Book 1 will be used in the adjustment of rates in the county and the "minimum" book will be followed in insuring property in the city. These books will be used by the agents and an agent's card will be adopted by the organization. This will give a uniform system of rates.

It is of course a hard matter to state what the increase is in these rates, but it is estimated that the change will make an increase of 25 to 50 per cent from the cut rates.

But the agents have succeeded in doing away with some of the heaviest special rates, which were particularly onerous to the small farmer and the small business man.

The agents have benefited themselves greatly. By the establishment of a uniform system of rates and commissions they have placed their business on a much more substantial footing, and have done away with ruinous rate cutting. They have also succeeded in securing a considerable volume of business which did not go through their hands, but which they were and are by right entitled to.

The local association has sent out circulars to all agents throughout the valley asking them to organize similar county organizations. Though no definite steps have been taken yet in this county, reports are being received to the effect that all think very favorably of the movement.

It is understood that the heads of the companies at San Francisco, their own inability to agree, are trying upon their agents to form compact and stop the injurious war which has cut deeply into the receipts of the companies for the past two years.

Every insurance agent in the county has joined the local association.

DISOBEYED THE LAW

E. Y. BAKER'S OPINION OF THE

SUNSET DIRECTORS.

The Contractor and Engineer Express Views on Irrigation—The Alkali Question.

P. Y. Baker, who has the contract for constructing the big irrigation system for the Sunset district on the West side, is in town. Last evening he was interviewed at the Hughes hotel, where he is stopping, by a Republican representative, and he had no hesitancy in talking about the troubles of the district, in which he is so vitally concerned. By the contract for building the district, Mr. Baker has, together with two partners, a tract of land embracing about 28,000 acres bounded to purchase from the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. If this extensive domain can be placed under irrigation it will be very valuable, and Baker and his partners will make a great profit out of it.

In regard to the suit instituted by George M. Kohler to compel the contractor to build the canal, Mr. Baker said that he did not think there was any question that the directors had clearly disobeyed the law. The majority of the old board are opposed to the directors in the present plan, and they are therefore resorting to unlawful means to obstruct the organization. The mandamus suit will come up before Judge Webb on the 25th inst.

Baker did not speak in very complimentary terms of P. P. Murray, who has been the assessor for the district since its formation. Mr. Murray belongs to the opposition. Considering the statement made by the assessor that the contractor is to receive for constructing the irrigating system about three times as much as the work is worth, Mr. Baker explained that his pay was to be in bonds, which are now very scarce in the money market. The amount of the bonds he is to receive is $1,500,000. Yesterday, the contractor said, he had seen Murray and offered to assign him the contract for $75,000. Mr. Baker has spent about $100,000 on the project, being himself an engineer of experience. He constructed the system of the 70 Land and Water Company, one of the largest in the valley.

The contractor considers the plan of pumping water from Kings river to ground forty-four feet higher a feasible one. The land to be benefited when irrigated will be as productive as any in the valley. The soil is of average formation, being rich in organic "mould" for many feet below the surface.

Speaking of irrigation in a general way, Mr. Baker said that he believed the people of this side of the valley, where the soil is of igneous origin and impregnated with alkali, will have to learn what the people of India learned 1600 years ago—that surface irrigation must be abandoned and the pumping system used.

The contractor said that he believed the present famine in India was caused by the resumption of surface irrigation. Since the British government took possession of the country it has been building canals, which were abandoned centuries ago for irrigation by pumping because the alkali was ruining the land. Now, since surface irrigation has been resumed, so much that it cannot produce enough to feed the people.

THE FEE BILL.

A Countable Objects to the "Expositor's" Misrepresentations.

Editor "REPUBLICAN":—Please allow me space in the columns of your valuable paper to reply to an article which appeared in the evening paper of the 9th inst. entitled, "Stop the Steal."

Now that the "Expositor" has a political axe to grind I do not wonder at such an article.

As for the countables not being satisfied with the $125 a week, that is false. They would be glad to have their fees fixed so they could make half that amount. From the article referred to a person would think that the countables received a salary of $125 even if they do no work at all, which is untrue.

As for our keeping all the fees in civil cases, that has nothing to do with the fees we should receive from the county treasury. If the people will pay us $125 a month, for my part the county treasurer is welcome to all the civil fees if he will collect them. The countables don't want any fees except such as they are justly entitled to by the rate of $125 a month. These fees we are entitled to and should receive, and I think if the "Expositor" will take that decision and study it carefully it will be convinced of that fact.

Concerning the highest steal that has ever been made in Fresno county have been made by proteges of the evening paper I think it had better pull in its horns, saw wood and say nothing.

A CONSTABLE.

Clovis, February 16th.

DOESN'T LIKE THE POEM

ATTACKED.

Professor Frederick Disapproves

of the Carousing and Recklessing Scenes.

Editor "REPUBLICAN":—My class is just reading the sixth canto of the "Lady of the Lake." The description of the guard room in Styling Castle is artistic enough to charm any of our scholars whose eyes are constantly turning toward the beautiful and glowing at the sublime.

No doubt it is a true-to-nature portrayal of an old-time debauch in the blessed days of barbarism. Of course it is an exquisite background to present to best advantage the superb Ellen Douglas, the heroine of the poem. Though angels may figure in the poem, the story is not a picture of heaven but of hell.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

Mr. Knobel's view prevails the Democrats are not at all pleased with the way it is trying to conduct the party's campaign in this city. They know that the public looks upon this as an attempt to make nominations for the city officers by a party caucus.

